

Individual Projects of the Environment Subcommittee

The International Youth Symposium of Environmental Protection in the Northeast Asia (Premorsky)

1 Objectives:

This symposium is to raise the understanding level of young generations in solving the ecological problems, current research procedure and technology, project development and its completion for the environmental protection and rational use of the natural resources. It is also expected that the cooperation relation for environmental protection among municipalities in the Northeast Asia will extend through the symposium.

2 Outline:

- (1) Date: November 21 to 22, 2005
- (2) Venue: Institute of engineering and social ecology of Far-Eastern state technical university in Vladivostok, Premorsky, Russia
- (3) Contents:
 - Theme: The environmental protection and rational use of the natural resources
 - Participants: Junior or Senior students of universities, graduate students, young researchers
 - Structure: Plenary meeting and several sessions
- (4) Participating Municipalities
 - Premorsky, Chungchongnam
- (5) Schedule
 - November 1: The deadline of an application
 - November 10: The deadline of a script
 - November 21 to 22: Symposium